Waiting the quotations of the new campaign, the graph on the right shows a comparison between the monthly sales of the last two campaigns: the 2014/2015 sales are higher than the previous year up to April (except January) but from May, the situation reverses, partly owing to the reduced availability of product of the campaign 2014/2015.

World In Mozambique the Minister of Agriculture and Food Security is considering plans to impose duty on rice to encourage domestic production. Plans to cut the current rice deficit also include investments in seed improvement and fertilizers. In China rice imports are predicted to be similar to the 2014 level at 2.7 million MTS milled, although imports from Vietnam are likely to decrease significantly as part of the government's plan to reduce reliance upon Vietnam and increase the import quotas for other origins.

Thailand The Commerce Ministry has not indicated when it plans to hold its next auction, although the Ministry initially stated sales would be held every month.

Vietnam Total exports from January to August fell by 13% year-on-year according to Agricultural Ministry, but exports to African destinations increased by 52% in the first seven months of 2015 compared to the same period last year, mainly to Ghana, Ivory Coast and South Africa.

U.S.A. Growers report concerns that milling yields could be affected by the previous high temperatures across the South and that new crop could produce a higher number of chalky kernels.

South America Several Countries in South and Central America are suffering from poor weather, possibly as a result of the El Nino phenomenon: the drought could delay rice planting or reduce the planted area. In Colombia, in particular, the National Planning Department announced that the failure to adapt to changing weather conditions will result in economic losses of US $ 1,1 million per year.

Myanmar has suspended rice exports until 15 September (Source: http://livericeindex.com/)

Floods caused by monsoon rains have affected over 393,031 ha of paddy fields over central and western Myanmar. Rice stocks lost in the floods have resulted in shortages in the affected areas. To curb the consequent rise in prices and ensure food security, exports have been suspended until 15 September. Rice exports in 2014/2015 reached 1.85 million MTS milled and could fall by 250,000 MTS milled this year. Although there are currently sufficient rice reserves in the Country, the government may consider rice imports if the situation worsens.

Egypt has banned rice exports from 1 September (Source: http://livericeindex.com/)

The Egyptian government has issued a ministerial decree that will ban exports of all varieties of rice from 1 September. Broken rice exports will be still permitted but will carry an export tax of EGP 100 PMT (US $ 12.77 PMT). The export licenses issued in 2014 will still be permitted for use. The government had lifted a similar ban in October last year but exports had been restricted by the requirement to deliver to the government 1 MT of rice for every 1 MT exported and by an export tax of US $ 280 PMT.
